Dietz's Diamond Oil.

WE NOW OFFER TO THE PUBLIC in full confidence a new article of

KEROSENE OIL,
Which we warrant in every particular to be Superior to any other Oil ever brought to this coast. It has been thoroughly tested in all the Patent Fluid Oil Burners, and found to possess
More Light and Burn Longer
by one-third than any other oil in use.

Among the many advantages of this KEROSENE OIL over other oils: First, that it is perfectly NON-EXPLOSIVE, and can be used with perfect safety in all kinds of LAMPS. Second, it is free from all objectionable and unpleasant smells, and burns with a clear white brilliant flame. We confidently solicit the public and FAMILIES to give this Oil a trial, and once tried, we feel confident it will gain a preference over all other Oil for economy as well as its superior burning qualities.

In order to protect ourselves against Counterfeits we have placed a brand on each can and case, which will be known as

DIETZ'S DIAMOND OIL.

It is now offered at wholesale and retail at 505 Front street,
Between Washington and Jackson streets,
And at Branch Store, 56 Second street,
2d door from Mission, San Francisco.
A. C. DIETZ & CO.

We have on hand a large stock of which we are selling at New York prices. Also,

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY

No flag but the Old Flag, the Red, White and Blue,
With the stars and [illegible]
Arise and [illegible]
Whose blood [illegible]

TUESDAY MORNING, JUNE 10, 1862.

The Result.

The success of the Union ticket in Oregon has been overwhelming. [illegible] now fully understand the sentiment of our people in regard to the rebellion and the proper way for its suppression. Oregon is in favor of the Union, now and forever. [illegible] people have expressed their [illegible] of the men who composed the secession State ticket, and of the leaders of the party which sustained it, in a manner that cannot be misunderstood. We are glad the system of [illegible] voting existed at the late election. It has placed upon record the names of those who are opposed to the Government and are in sympathy with treason, in a [illegible] manner which will serve as a warning to all true patriots. It is true that some good enough men in other respects were wheedled into the support of the secession ticket by the [illegible] ing cry of "Democracy," without duly considering the fact that the Charleston Convention inflicted a fatal blow to the old democratic party, and subsequently, the rebellion murdered that party outright. [illegible] will, if they have not already, see their error and be led to regret their credulity; but we have no such hopes for the more [illegible] leaders. What their future policy may be we will not now undertake to predict. But we verily believe that had their ticket been successful, many of them would have immediately started for the kingdom of Jeff. Davis, but as it is they will probably remain among us. What influence has all their cry against the Administration and those who were struggling against rebellion and trying to maintain the supremacy of the constitution and law of the nation, had upon the public mind in Oregon? Simply to arouse the people to the importance of immediately crushing such an insinuating and dangerous party organization which, had it been successful, would have given aid and comfort to those who are trying to destroy our government and country. But thanks to the intelligence, patriotism and firmness of a very large majority of our citizens, the country is still safe, and we are not at the mercy of traitors and their cohorts.

But the Union party must press on to the consummation of their triumphs governed by the same noble spirit that animated them at the late election. Perish party,—perish political ambition, when these sacrifices are necessary to maintain our glorious Union. Let us still go on in the path marked out by patriotism, prudence, concession and justice, and make this victory A PERMANENT VICTORY. We can do it, and we will do it.

COL. LEE.—A military court of inquiry is now in session at Vancouver investigating the matter of difficulty between Col. Lee and Capt. Rowell of Walla Walla. It appears that Col. Lee, while at Walla Walla, placed this Capt. Rowell under arrest for some improper conduct, and Rowell, feeling considerably indignant thereat, immediately addressed a note to Gen. Wright, in which he preferred several serious charges against Col. Lee. Gen. Wright, not probably being fully apprised of the whole circumstances of the case, thereupon suspended Col. Lee and directed him to report himself at Vancouver, where an investigation of these charges would be had. We learn that since the suspension of Col. Lee this Capt. Rowell has retracted the charges preferred against him under oath, swearing that they were falsely made and without foundation. We have but little doubt that Col. Lee will be honorably acquitted and immediately restored to his command. We regard him as an efficient and faithful officer and as an honorable and high minded gentleman.

"DEAD AND STINK!"—The Corvallis Union has at last sunk down under its own weight of pollution, and is now a defunct carcass, fit food for carrion crows. The [illegible] sentence of condemnation which [illegible] and all its ilk received from the people of Oregon on the day of election has [illegible] sunk its treason polluted carcass [illegible] ignominious death. It dies [illegible] sung," and goes hence [illegible] ward among the [illegible] preceded it, and those that will [illegible] after. The voters of Oregon [illegible] on last Monday week. The [illegible] in Oregon received its death blow [illegible] of which we now rejoice to behold. Other [illegible] reptiles admirers are soon to follow, and we hope the day is not far distant when not one shall be left to tell the tale of their utter condemnation.

Lies dying and dies Lying.

The Corvallis Union, true to its instincts while living, fails not to evince its true character even in death by pronouncing the following wilful falsehood with its last expiring breath:

"Platoons of California Volunteers were marched from Vancouver to Portland and an attempt was made to vote them there. This having been objected to, it is said they were furnished with citizens clothes and then voted."

"It is said they were," &c. Now, the man that penned this extract knew that no such thing was done at the time he said "it is said," and we are still more convinced that he never heard any one else say "it is said." Poor miserable wretch! a sentence was long ago pronounced against him which fixes his final end, in the following language: "No liar shall ever enter the Kingdom of Heaven." Hence, it is not a difficult or even doubtful case as to what will become of his soul.

Retreat of Gen. Banks' Division.

The Sacramento Union of the 2d, in speaking of the late news from the East, says:

"The dispatches from the East convey intelligence of the highest importance. While on this distant coast we have been quietly, though somewhat impatiently, awaiting the restoration of telegraphic communication, the loyal States have passed through a period of excitement unparalleled since the great uprising of the people at the commencement of the war. The occasion of this feverish demonstration was the forced retreat of General Banks's division from Front Royal, on the Manassas Gap Railroad, to the Potomac, at Williamsport, Maryland. It appears that it was known early in May that Jackson was to be reinforced by some of the best brigades of the rebel army. General Banks had then a sufficient force to hold the enemy in check; but on the [illegible]th, Shields' and Geary's commands were, by somebody's blundering order, transferred to McDowell's Department, east of the mountains, leaving Banks with only about four thousand men to defend our conquests in the Shenandoah Valley. On the very same day Jackson effected a junction with the divisions of Ewell and Edward Johnson, and prepared to cut off the little army commanded by Banks. The advance of our force was stationed at Front Royal, so as to hold the terminus of the Manassas Gap Railroad. It consisted of the First Maryland Regiment, Knapp's Pennsylvania Battery and some Vermont cavalry. Banks was at Strasburg. On Friday, 23d of May, the advanced detachment was suddenly attacked by an overwhelming force, and after a desperate fight, either cut up or captured. The accounts say that the rebels converted their victory into a massacre, and not more than a hundred and fifty men of the nine hundred engaged upon our side escaped. As the enemy advanced, Banks was compelled to retreat; and that retreat was one of the most masterly exploits of the war. With less than four thousand men, and a train of five hundred wagons to protect, Banks took immediate command of the rear guard, and although pursued by an enemy at least fifteen thousand strong and repeatedly assailed in front, flank and rear, succeeded in reaching the Potomac, with but small loss in men and the sacrifice of only fifty out of the five hundred wagons. Sigel himself, so renowned for skillful retreats, could not have performed this difficult movement with more celerity, order and success. The announcement of these events created intense excitement throughout the loyal States. The militia were called out, and all available troops were set in motion towards the Potomac. [illegible] time Maryland shared the patriotic enthusiasm. The slaughter of the First Maryland Regiment, and the report of rebel atrocities towards the sick and wounded, excited the Baltimoreans to such a pitch that mobs immediately began to hunt down secession [illegible]. Jeff. Davis' friends there fared rather hardly. Recruiting offices were opened at once. Maryland is again thoroughly loyal. Under the influence of the excitement, the lower branch of Congress passed a stringent Confiscation Bill. The public mind, however, soon recovered its tone. On the 27th of May, Banks was at Williamsport. On the 30th at the head of eighteen thousand men, he was [illegible] the Potomac, chasing the rebel army [illegible] the Shenandoah and capturing stragglers. [illegible] our advance reached Front Royal. Meantime a portion of McDowell's [illegible] had been detached with a view to co[illegible] against Jackson's army and attempt [illegible] that force. Thus within a few [illegible] position of affairs has been entirely [illegible] our favor; and the grand results [illegible] Jackson's bold movement are a vast addition [illegible] the strength of the Union forces, the [illegible] of secession in Maryland and the [illegible] of the war spirit throughout the [illegible]. In fact, that will prove to have been [illegible] expensive movement the rebels could have made."

A [illegible] of the Board of Managers of the State Agricultural Society is called at Salem on the 11th day of June. Business [illegible] with the next Annual Fair will be [illegible].

You take now a new scene [illegible] you have some of the [illegible] scenery [illegible] of bold rocky steeps from one [illegible] many hundred feet in altitude and of every variety of form with contours like dimples on the [illegible] of beauty, which [illegible] the mountains tracked [illegible] innumerable cascades. Nothing could be sweeter than these cascades as the fine spray sparkles and scatters itself in the air, reflecting often all the varied hues of the rainbow. "Cape Horn" is [illegible] the most noted feature on the lower Columbia, and is so called because at this point the navigation is often encountered [illegible] wind. The river here makes a graceful [illegible] the shore is [illegible] to benches—the first two or three hundred feet high and the second [illegible] perhaps one thousand feet from the water to the [illegible] of the highest bench. Just at the upper point of the "Horn" [illegible] under the bold rocks a farm [illegible] but whether our friend is there for potatoes or poetry I am not advised. A little way above this point and on the Oregon side of the river is a cascade falling into a [illegible] basin one hundred feet or more in [illegible] and [illegible] of the [illegible] of the mountain about fifty feet above the river, from which the water again falls into [illegible] The trees hide the basin from view [illegible] warm in its [illegible] must be a bath [illegible] and a spot perhaps [illegible] nymphs resorted for their sports and ablutions.

"Castle Rock" [illegible] five miles below the Cascade Mountains [illegible] fills your eye. It rises up [illegible] solid rock pyramidal in form, with a base circumference of perhaps two hundred yards and an altitude of some seven [illegible] hundred feet.—The scenery of the lower Columbia which [illegible] the beholder [illegible] emotions and [illegible] the improved farm [illegible] the white cottage [illegible] May [illegible] the millions [illegible] the lavish hand [illegible] in the scenery [illegible]

THE SCENERY [illegible] CASCADES TO THE DALLES [illegible] PASSENGERS.

You enter east of the Cascades a new world. The land of the "Webfoot" is now behind you. You have a drier climate, hotter in summer and colder in winter—the river narrowing from this point up—with its banks growing gradually less bold though [illegible] beautiful and desolate [illegible] that fine forest growth [illegible] the pride and ornament of the lower Columbia.

Our boat was not crowded and I was agreeably impressed with the appearance and deportment of our gold hunters. I saw no gambling and but little drinking, and while gold dust [illegible] fresh from the hand [illegible] the men had a manly look and conducted themselves as men who were [illegible] in home or a spree but with hard work to better their fortunes, and while many had houses and if their gold fields should not prove all they promise, we will have quite a substantial and permanent addition to our population. We had a couple of squaws on board and a [illegible] woman with several pledges of love, but [illegible] and the world without them you know is like the [illegible] without its lights.

OBSERVER.

The Columbia (Penn.) correspondent of the Chicago Tribune repeats the statement of the Louisville Journal that Bishop Polk is dead, but no authority is given for the statement. He died of his wounds Sunday night," says the writer, "in an awful state of mind."

One who has recently seen him says if Jeff. Davis is let alone he will shuffle off this mortal coil, as he is now a mere skeleton, having totally destroyed his health since his assumption of the duties of President of the Southern Confederacy.

It may be a matter worthy of remembrance that in New Hampshire, on the third week in April, 1862, the farmers were hauling wood to the railway stations on the top of the snow "across lots," without regard to roads and fences.

DEATH OF SIR JAMES ROSS.—We regret to announce the death of Sir James Ross, the celebrated navigator of the Arctic seas, and the nephew of the Ross who discovered Boothia. Sir James Ross discovered the magnetic pole of the North, and subsequently sailed for the South Pole, which he approached to within 160 miles, or nearer than any other navigator. He had attained the rank of Rear Admiral, and had been honored by many learned societies.

Mose Case, a negro [illegible], was about as well known to Gen Taylor's army as the General himself At Buena Vista, Mose left early in the action and found his way to Saltillo where he remained until after the [illegible] Mose would never admit that he ran—he only retreated in good order A few days after his return to camp an officer was [illegible] him to know how fast he did retreat

"Well I tell you the truth Captain" was his reply "If I had been home, and going after the doctor, folks would have thought the man right sick!"

A man arrived at Philadelphia several years ago, exhibiting six boys and six girls, but all of them were dressed in girls clothes All were so much like girls in appearance that he made money by betting that no one could tell t'other from which. An Irishman went out and returned with a dozen apples Throwing one to each of the children, he observed that some caught them in their hands these, he said, were boys Others held their aprons; these, he said, were girls Pat was right

One of our justices was called on to "acknowledge a deed," as the saying is He spread the document on a table, and laying both hands on it, said in a solemn voice, "I acknowledge this to be a deed!" On being called upon to marry a couple, he asked them if they wanted to be married, to which they gave an affirmative answer He knew not what further to say, being very diffident, but finally said that would do

Do thy duty like a man, to thy country, thy Queen and thy God and count thy life as a worthless thing, as did the holy men of old Do thy work, lad and leave thy soul to the care of Him who is just and merciful in this that He rewards every man according to his work, and if I hear of thee, dead—doing thy duty, with all thy wounds in front, I shall weep for thy Mother, lad, but I shall heave never a sigh for thee —Amyas Leigh

I have now by me two cents in lawful federal currency Next week I shall spend them if they be all. They will buy a pipe—and a pipe you can smoke—smoking inspires wisdom—wisdom is allied to fortitude—from fortitude it is but one step to stoicism and stoicism never pants for this world's goods So, perhaps, my two cents, by this process, may put you quite at ease —Daniel Webster

Esthetics are strangely blended with morals in women's mind With the fair sex good looks are a part of good behavior It is woman's duty to be beautiful—it is her privilege Thus we were amused not long since at the farewell words of an anxious mother about sending her daughter into the world "Be a good girl," said she, "do the best you can, never do anything wrong, and—be sure and keep your eye brows brushed up!"

"Faith," says Pat, as he was going along the street with a bag of cheese, "if anybody will tell me how many cheeses I have in my bag, I'll give him the whole three"

"I guess you have got three," said a Yankee. "Take them" said Pat, "and may the devil pound the sowl out of him that told it to yez"

Many a minister who has prided himself on the number of his listeners, will be stripped of his vainglory, if the characters which he has produced be found wanting if that which seems to be souls won for God, turns out to be only hearts won for self!

The following conversation recently occurred in a confectioner's shop in Bristol between two "fast" urchins under twelve years of age —"Tom, do you smoke much now?"

"No, the cigars are so bad now that unless a man (?) imports his own tobacco, he can't get on with comfort.

Moliere was asked the reason why, in certain countries, the king may assume the crown at fourteen years of age, and cannot marry before eighteen?—"It is," said Moliere, "because it is more difficult to rule a wife than a kingdom"

The poorest are not unfrequently the happiest. A sultan, as a cure for low spirits, was directed by his physician to wear the shirt of the happiest man in his dominions, selected a gay and reckless fellow, but on stripping him for his shirt, found he didn't wear one

How many a man by throwing himself to the ground in despair, crushes and destroys forever a thousand flowers of hope that were ready to spring up and gladden all his pathway.

"Abuse" says Dr Johnson "is often of service. There is nothing so dangerous to an author as silence his name like a shuttlecock, must be beat backward and forward or it falls to the ground!"

Of all diseases the first great cause
Springs from neglect of Nature's laws,

To the Afflicted!

Suffer not when a cure is guaranteed in all stages Secret diseases—Self Abuse Nervous Debility Syphilis in all its stages Strictures Gleet Gravel Diabetes diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder Mercurial Rheumatism Scrofula Pains in the Bones and Ankles diseases of the Lungs Throat Nose and Eyes, Ulcers upon the Body or Limbs Cancers Dropsy Epileptic Fits St Vitus Dance—and all diseases arising from a derangement of the sexual organs such as Nervous Trembling Loss of Memory Loss of Power General Weakness Dimness of Vision with peculiar spots appearing before the eyes Loss of Sight Wakefulness Dyspepsia Liver Diseases Eruptions upon the Face Pains in the Back and Head Female Irregularities—and all improper discharges of both sexes It matters not from what cause the disease originated, however long standing or obstinate the case recovery is certain and in a shorter time than a permanent cure can be effected by any other treatment even after the disease has baffled the skill of eminent physicians, and resisted all their means of cure The medicines prescribed are pleasant without odor entirely vegetable causing no sickness and free from mercury or balsam During fifteen years of practice in Europe the Atlantic States and California, I have rescued from the jaws of death many thousands who in the last stages of the above mentioned diseases had been given up to die by their physicians which warrants me in promising to the afflicted who may place themselves under my care a speedy and permanent cure Private diseases are the great enemies to health as they are the first cause of consumption and of many other diseases, and should be a terror to the human family A permanent cure is scarcely ever effected—a majority of cases falling into the hands of incompetent persons who not only fail to cure the disease, but ruin the constitution filling the system with mercury which with the disease hastens the sufferer into a rapid consumption but should the disease and the treatment not cause death speedily and the victim marries the disease is entailed upon the children who are born with feeble constitutions and the current of life corrupted by a virus which betrays itself in scrofula, tetter ulcers eruptions and other affections of the skin eyes throat and lungs entailing upon them a brief existence of suffering and consigning them to an early grave

[illegible] is another formidable enemy to health [illegible] in the dread catalogue of human diseases causes so destructive a drain upon the system—drawing its thousands of victims through a few years of suffering down to an untimely grave It destroys the nervous system rapidly wastes away the energies of life causes mental derangement prevents the proper development of the system disqualifies for marriage society business and all earthly happiness and leaves the sufferer wrecked in body and mind predisposed to consumption and a train of evils more to be dreaded than death itself With the fullest confidence I assure the unfortunate victims of Self abuse that a permanent and speedy cure can be effected and with the abandonment of ruinous practices my patients can be restored to robust vigorous health

Irregularities and all diseases of males and females treated on principles established by fifteen years of practice and sanctioned by thousands of the most remarkable cures—Medicines with full directions sent to any part of the State of Oregon and Washington Territory, by patients communicating their symptoms by letter

All business correspondence strictly confidential Address DR. L. J. CZAPKAY Medical Institute Sacramento street below Montgomery opposite Pacific Mail Steamship Co's Office San Francisco

Remarkable Instance of Medical Relief

Below we publish the certificate of three of the sufferers from the [illegible] of disease who having recovered their former health and impelled by gratitude make known their cases and remedial agent and their statements are authenticated by a Notary Public The demand is [illegible] imperatively commend their publicity and we commend them to all the attention of all afflicted

Certificate—The undersigned desirous of imparting [illegible] where a permanent relief of their sufferings may be [illegible] duty to thus publicly express his sense of gratitude to Dr L J Czapkay for the [illegible] recovery of his health [illegible] distressing [illegible] the passion [illegible] depressed and [illegible] for the duties of life I sought the advice of many physicians [illegible] at first regarded my disease as a trifling [illegible] but after a few weeks and [illegible] months of their treatment [illegible] that instead of relief [illegible] alarming in their [illegible] being gradually [illegible] the main [illegible] of little consequence [illegible] health strength and energy [illegible] without a faint [illegible] of which [illegible] heart [illegible] myself [illegible] his direction and advice [illegible] the [illegible] and ground [illegible] slightest alarm or excitement, the [illegible] and [illegible] the incapability [illegible] the frightful exciting and at times [illegible] dreams at night followed by involuntary discharges have all disappeared and in fact in two months after having consulted the doctor I felt as if inspired by a new life—that life which but a short time ago I contemplated to end by my own hand With the view to guard the unfortunate from falling into the snares of incompetent quacks I deem it my duty to offer this testimony to the merit and skill of Dr Czapkay, and recommend him to all who may stand in need of medical advice being assured by my own experience that those under his care a radical and permanent cure will be effected.

State of California County of San Francisco
Subscribed and sworn to before me this seventh day of April A D 1856 Signed [L. S.] JOHN MIDDLETON, Notary Public.

MARYSVILLE June 3d, 1856.

DR. L. J. CZAPKAY San Francisco—Sir I have used the last of your medicine and do not think I shall need any more as I feel very well except that I have not entirely gained my strength yet but it will with the appetite I have. It is just three weeks as nearly as I may recollect, since I called at your institute with my constitution as I thought, broken entirely and I never thought you would be able to cure me perfectly but thought you might be able to do something to ease the pain in my back and head, and strengthen my nerves so that I would not be so excited and tremble at everything. Now that you know what I expected, you may judge of my satisfaction at my complete recovery from those symptoms and the removal of those sores and blotches from my skin and the ulcers in my throat and the entire stoppage of those emissions which you said were principally the cause of my sickness I can hardly tell you which is the greatest my joy or my surprise for except not having fully got my strength I feel as well as any man can feel.

Enclosed I send you twenty dollars for your charge, and think myself cheaply cured. If you think anybody will be benefited you may put this letter in the newspapers. Believe me gratefully yours THOMAS HAYDEN

Thankfulness is the incentive to gratitude.

CERTIFICATE—I [illegible] and most desire of my heart, I wish to lay before the public a case which deserves a commendation not only as a result of scientific skill but that of humanity also About two years ago I suddenly and from causes unknown to me was seized with a fit of epilepsy, which owing to my inability to meet the expenses consequent upon a thorough medical treatment, and the discouragement which I met with in attempting it, soon became such (I was then told) as to defy the skill of any physician I was frequently while in pursuit of my calling, thrown to the ground without the slightest warning, and although insensible to the agonies I yet despised the miseries of my life and soon learned to look upon those who would render assistance or shelter me from danger as enemies who sought to prolong the existence of my miseries. When in this state and having previous to my affliction, tasted the sweets of life, I once more was induced to attempt so long and [illegible] and by recommendation, called upon Dr. L. J. Czapkay. I told him of my circumstances, and of my inability to reward him for his services, regardless of which he nevertheless undertook my case, and with the blessing of God I was [illegible] restored to perfect health For all of which I am in the [illegible] which I enjoy at present and yet for a [illegible] indebtedness I consider it but my duty to make this public, in order that those in need of the [illegible] may find a physician who merits [illegible] confidence placed
